THE CANADIAN THANKSGIVING GRATITUDE WORKOUT

A 15-minute reset for before or after the feast — to celebrate your health, honour your body, and move with gratitude.

This is not about earning your meal. It is about feeling good in your body and giving thanks for all it does for you.

THE FORMAT

45 seconds of movement	15 seconds of rest or transition	5 moves	3 rounds	Total time: 15 minutes

THE WORKOUT

Five moves. A stronger, happier, more grateful you.

1 Squat to Reach

Sit your hips back, stand tall, and reach overhead.

Form cue: Keep your chest lifted and press through your whole foot.

Make it easier: Squat to a chair or complete sit-to-stands.

2 Counter Push-Ups

Place your hands on a sturdy counter, table, or wall and lower your chest toward your hands.

Form cue: Keep your body in one long line.

Make it easier: Use a wall or stand closer to the surface.

3 Reverse Lunges

Step one foot back, lower with control, and switch sides.

Form cue: Keep most of your weight in the front foot.

Make it easier: Hold a chair or replace with alternating backward toe taps.

4 March with Gratitude Reach

March in place while reaching your arms overhead or forward.

Form cue: Stand tall and move at a pace that feels good.

Make it easier: March slowly or hold onto a chair.

5 Standing Twist

Stand tall with soft knees and gently rotate side to side, letting your arms follow.

Form cue: Move from your upper body and stay relaxed through your shoulders.

Make it easier: Keep the twist small and slow.

CONNECTION MOMENT

At the end of each round, place one hand on your heart and one on your stomach. Take one slow breath and think:

"Thank you, body, for carrying me through this season."

Move to celebrate your body, not to punish it.

A HEALTHIER HAPPIER YOU IS ALWAYS SOMETHING TO BE THANKFUL FOR
